The Alumni Association

THE Alumni Association is the main connecting agency between Oberlin and her graduates. This connection it maintains in a number of important ways. The Alumni Magazine, official organ of the association, is full of things that all Oberlin people wish to know, news of their classmates and friends; campus affairs, undergraduate, faculty, and administrative; a reading list suggested each month by faculty members, Dr. Wager's page, articles of historical and other importance—all of these offer entertainment, information, and a small means of continuing one's education. The Magazine is one of the things that an alumnus is most unwilling to do without.

Another of the major activities of the alumni association office is the promoting of local chapters in more than fifty cities and centers in this country, Hawaii, and China. Many of these are very active, with extended and excellent programs. Their connection with Oberlin is kept vital by visits from the alumni secretary and by faculty members, by the showing of Oberlin moving pictures, and by a large correspondence with the association office.

time and the two yearly homecomings. It is the collecting agent for the Shansi Memorial Association and the publicity bureau of the college.

In addition to these, it maintains a file of all graduates with their addresses. It is in general the clearing house for alumni matters of all sorts.

For the young alumni, it is especially a valuable ally, being most glad to furnish letters of introduction to alumni established in the communities to which they go, notifying the local chapters of their coming, whose members will gladly help them become established.

Junior Honor List

The Junior Honor List includes the names of ten per cent of the class having the highest scholarship grades during the second semester of 1928-29 and the first semester of 1929-30. There are 283 in the Junior class. The list includes 28 names; the names are arranged alphabetically. Students whose names are marked with a star (*) ranked in the highest ten in the class.

The list is prepared under the two following rules: (1) Only those students are considered who are classed as Juniors; (2) only those students are considered who have completed seventy-five or more hours of work.

Sophomore Honor List

The Sophomore Honor List includes the names of ten per cent of the class having the highest scholarship grades during the second semester of 1928-29 and the first semester of 1929-30. There are 294 in the Sophomore Class. The list includes 29 names; the names are arranged alphabetically. Students whose names are marked with a star (*) ranked in the highest ten in the class.

The list is prepared under the two following rules: (1) Only those students are considered who are classed as Sophomores; (2) only those students are considered who have completed forty-five or more hours of work.

School of Theology

IN 1915 Mrs. Ellen S. James gave the Seminary $100,000 to form the nucleus of a fund for a new building. This money has accumulated until it has nearly doubled. Last year Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. gave $300,000, which enables the faculty to proceed with the building of a new home for the School of Theology. The design has been entrusted to Mr. Cass Gilbert, and it is hoped that work will soon be begun on the rear building. The material is to be smooth sandstone with roof of red tile.

The buildings form a quadrangle, the three rear sides of which are devoted to dormitories, and the front, on Lorain Street, to a Chapel, administration offices and lecture rooms. The front of the building will be T shaped, the Chapel extending out in the center to the north. In a tower overlooking the rest of the building, the Dean will have his private office, the better to enable him to keep his eye on both campos.

On the first floor of the dormitory at the north end of the quadrangle, there will be a refectory and students' quarters; upstairs, a library and a large social and common room in which there are to be old-fashioned fire-places. The building on the west side is to be devoted entirely to students' rooms of various sizes and forms, to meet individual tastes and pocket-books. On the east side there has been incorporated a new feature; the upper story will be divided up into apartments for married students.

It has been the concern of all to provide a building at once useful in which to work; a comfortable home for students who are studying here; and a monument worthy of the Seminary's past in which both collectively and individually it is hoped that the achievements and labors of past members and friends of the school may find an appropriate recognition of their contributions to its welfare.

Student Council

THE Student Council regulates affairs involving men and women jointly in conformity with College regulations. It strives particularly to represent student sentiment on the campus, and to encourage cooperation between the faculty and the student body.

The Council's chief success this year has been in the work of its treasurer, who was chairman of the Student Chest. Owing to the unprecedented success of the Chest, the Council was able not only to pay certain publication debts of long standing, but to establish a contingency fund which shall prevent recurrence of such debts.

The Council obtained twelve o'clock permission for dances. It was instrumental in securing a return to the old system of reporting of grades. The Council hopes to have simplified the situation at class reunions by sanctioning the union of senior classes of the College and Conservatory.

Second: Henry, Kline, Koontz, Palmer, Sams.
First: Reischauer, Ransom, Moorhead, R. J. Gladieux.

Men's Senate

THE 1929-1930 Men's Senate has administered its duties very successfully, being fortunate in having an energetic and capable personnel. It supervised a spirited tie-up, an enthusiastic football banquet, several good stags, and a civilized cap-burning. It prevented several Frosh-Soph mutual massacres, but encouraged manifestations of class spirit and exuberance. Its policy favored tradition and individualism.

Second: Sherley, Lukas, Brott, R. Sheppard, G. Wilson, McDonald, Cooper, Kleinhans, Kluge, Mellon.

First: Gluck, Brockett, Haskell, Merritt, Geisinger, Hayward, Arthur.

Women's Senate

THE Women's Senate is a representative group which expresses the sentiment of the women concerning campus problems. The membership consists of house presidents, class vice-presidents, and four members of the Executive Board.

At the monthly Senate meetings problems of house government are discussed. Any proposed changes in legislation may be made in the Senate, referred to the Executive Board and then to the Joint Council.

Back row: Stenburg, T. Williams, E. Anderson, Betteridge, Holt.
Third: Cary, B. Fitzgerald, Campana, Van Bodegraven, G. Morgan, Tufts, R. Stocker, Wharton.
Second: Branigan, Warch, Garlanger, Steigely, Westervelt, Eaton, Sells.
First: Melcher, Snell, Gould, Anthony, J. Holloway, E. Thomas, Cassler.

Conservatory Men's Board

THE Conservatory Men's Board was originally a small group of Conservatory men whose endeavor was a closer fellowship between faculty and students of the Conservatory. Today the enrollment includes fifty-seven members. The duties of the board are of a social nature, encouraging the individual to participate in group activities. This year it organized a basketball team.

Back row: Watters, Doty, Haskell, Perrine.
First: F. Parker, K. Marshall, MacComb.

Conservatory Women's Board

THE Women's Board is composed of the presidents or vice-presidents of the Conservatory classes, the chairman of the Conservatory counsellors, a representative from the Y. W. C. A., and the Conservatory members of the Executive Board of the Women's League.

Together with the Men's Board it promotes the welfare and social life of Conservatory students, and arranges the Thanksgiving party and the Christmas Promenade.

First: A. Barr, Moorhead, Koontz, Barber.

Men's Honor Court

ALTHOUGH a special study of the Honor System has been made this year, the Honor Courts have continued under the original system with a few changes. Among these are the enlarging of the membership to include seven seniors and juniors, the different way of electing the chairman of the Men's Court, and the attempt to institute a more individual treatment in the punishment of the offender.

Back row: Sherley, Moody, Ramsey.
Second: Briley, Channell, Delaplane.
First: Hayward, Schulte.

Women's Honor Court

THE Women's Honor Court is the judicial branch of the Women's League. It tries cases of academic dishonesty among the women of the College and Conservatory, and makes recommendations for penalty to the joint faculty-student council.

It is composed of women of the two upper College and Conservatory classes, elected by the Women's Executive Board; its chairman, a senior, is elected at the Women's League election.

First: Schulte, Barber, Estabrook.

Student Chest

COOPERATION was the keynote of the 1929-1930 College Chest Campaign. A group of fifty active people working with the Chest Committee were able to put the Chest "over the top" in quick fashion. A most significant feature of the project was the universal sentiment expressed by the workers that they really enjoyed the work.

Back row: K. Marshall, Austin, Peabody, Hayward.
Second: M. Rogers, B. von Wenck, Rugh.

Women's League

THE Women's League is composed of all college and conservatory women. Its works is apportioned between four sub-organizations: the Senate, which hears all student opinions and carries on House Government; the Executive Board, which is the legislative body; the Honor Court and the Joint Council, consisting of faculty and students and acting as an advisory board. The Executive Board and Joint Council handle all legislation and the more serious cases of discipline.

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet

WORKING entirely under student leadership this year, the Y. M. C. A. has performed distinct services to the student body. Among these were the meetings led by Dr. Ames, the inauguration of joint Sunday services with the Y. W. C. A., the donation of the fully-equipped Y. lodge to the Outing Club, the work with freshmen, the maintaining of the K.-B. Room, and the boys' work in the town.

Forensic Union

DEBATING has enjoyed a particularly successful season. Thirty intercollegiate and twenty extension debates were held on the subjects of education, disarmament, the Kellogg Peace Pact, and installment plan buying. The women's team travelled to Chicago and West Virginia; one men's team went on a five-day trip through Michigan, and another spent the spring recess in the East. A strong nucleus remains for next year.

Review Staff

THE Review is the only undergraduate medium in Oberlin for news and publicity. Directed and controlled entirely by undergraduates, the Review not only presents news and features, but it excites student and faculty discussion to an unusual degree through its Vox Populi columns. This year the important questions have been the "Honor System," "Professor and Student," "Trends on Sports," "Extra-curricular Activities," "What the Graduate Faces."

Suminarius, star anonymous columnist, has aroused curiosity and gained converts with a critical and facile pen. Feature stories and the social column developed materially in scope and style. Subscribers, advertisers, and goodwill increased. Honest, earnest, critical, and hopeful, may the Review ever retain the high ideals which have earned it respect.

The 1931 Hi-O-Hi

“IT IS not to be a stilted portrait gallery. Create a Hi-O-Hi of technical excellence, unmistakably portraying Oberlin, having all the charm of a living personality.” Thus the Olympian injunction, May, 1929.

Jim Griswold, with his graflex camera, smile, and curly hair, was the ubiquitous member of the staff. Referees could not stop Jim. Oberlin cloudbursts only induced him to take pictures of students parading in native dress. His masterpiece, obtained by smuggling the camera into chapel, appears on page 28.

Hawkins, surnamed Hercules, carried staging from afar to give the boarding house pictures new backgrounds. For the first time in thirty-five years, Mr. Rice testifies, the Hi-O-Hi has avoided the black smudge left across the top of the picture by the dark shadows under porch ceilings.

Wilbur, Service, and Ryall have pictured athletics as athletics ought always to be pictured—in action. Mirabile dictu, there are only three group pictures in the entire sports section!

Helen Thomas captured all honors for staff efficiency by completing the Junior section on November 18th. Production managers Stratton and Grindlay, with Mary Jordan and her copy staff, supervised the details of the book. Kay Kuhn engineered the most delightful chapel service of the year and filled the office, otherwise a bedlam of dissonant groanings, with the lyric enchantment of her charming melodies.

Shipherd, called "Pluto" because of his angelic benevolence, and Doust, called "Zeus" because of his abstract and inarticulate thunderings, were seen occasionally by the staff, and probably hindered it no more than was necessary.

Mr. Benson, engraver and idea wizard, climbed into the little window in the chapel tower twenty seconds before a Plain Dealer photographer came puffing up the stairs, and from that unusual angle took the picture that appears on page 31.

For the first time, interesting pictures of all the faculty appear in the Hi-O-Hi. On page 298 begins an invaluable supplement to the Fusser's Guide.

The natural-color pictures near the beginning of the book were produced directly from projections of color-sensitive autochrome plates—a process used only recently in commercial advertising, and probably never before in a college annual. Every line printed in type is in Garamond, a letter of beauty and character. The story interest in the pictures and the emphasis on vertical lines are adapted from modern advertising.

Every effort has been concentrated upon the essential content of the book. There are no gorgeous division pages. There are no gilded accessories. But page by page, picture by picture, there is slowly traced out the composite personality that is Oberlin.

Girls' Band

RATHER recent in the line of co-ed activities comes the idea of a Girls' Band. This year Mr. Waln has brought forth this new group and has so far raised it to a successful adolescence. It has already proved itself a boon to the other co-eds, especially at the Yale-Princeton game, and will no doubt grow into as permanent an organization as the college band.

Oberlin Concert Band

THE Concert Band is enjoying a second year of continued success under the leadership of Mr. Arthur Williams, the faculty director. This year it has been aided by the Second Band and the Girls' Band. The latter aided in presenting the annual Fall Concert given on the third of December. The Band has had an active past and is looking forward to a busy future.

A Capella Choir

THE A Capella Choir is a new organization which was started in September, 1929. The choir, consisting of fifty members from both the college and conservatory, is directed by Mr. Olaf C. Christiansen. The choir made its first appearance before the student body in chapel on December eighteenth. Since then it has given concerts over radio station WTAM and in towns in the vicinity of Oberlin.

Men's Glee Club

WITH an enlarged membership the Glee Club celebrated during the season of 1929-1930 its fiftieth anniversary of public singing. The year was especially successful. The Christmas tour included the cities of Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Pittsburg, and on a week-end trip at the close of the first semester the club sang in Toledo, Chicago, and Detroit. Jack Wirkler directed again, assiduously.

Women's Glee Club

THE Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. J. E. Wirkler, consists of thirty-one women. Jointly with the Men's Glee Club this year it has presented the operetta, "In Bagdad", the concert for the Alumni Association, and the annual reunion concert. The spring concert tour included southern Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, and Kentucky.

Freshman Men's Glee Club

DURING Freshman Week, Mr. Wirkler selected the Freshman Men's Glee Club. Very soon afterward the club began to practice energetically under the competent leadership of Mr. VanBodegraven, or, as he is better known, "Van". Lee Shackson took charge after Christmas. On one interesting occasion, the club presented a joint concert with the Freshman Women's Glee Club.

Freshman Women's Glee Club

FRESHMAN Women's Glee Club consisting of thirty-eight members held weekly meetings after the first of October under the direction of Harriet Crosby. The officers were Patricia Poole, president, Edith Williams, secretary-treasurer, and Margaret Vining, social chairman. The club made its first appearance at the All-College dance on Dad's and Mother's and later sang at an evening service of the Y. M. C. A.

Dramatic Association

TO the followers of the Thespian art in Oberlin the past year has been of extraordinary interest. Beginning with "Twelfth Night", last year's commencement play, and ending with "A Midsummer Night's Dream", this year's commencement play, the Dramatic Association has rounded out a successful year. The tight wire between these two milestones, to be sure, has not been easy to walk. Faint heart never presented Sheridan, O'Neill, or Lonsdale, and neither has faint voice overcome the cynical squeaks of Sturges' boards. However, with steady foot and the equilibrium of excellent faculty direction, the end has been reached without a fall.

One can't tell what sort of bridge next year's Association will have to cross, but with the same universal cooperation that we have enjoyed, they shall do quite as much and more.

Freshman Dramatic Association

THE Freshman Dramatic Association this year has been under the direction of Mrs. Lampson and Caroline Schulz. On January seventeenth and eighteenth, three one-act plays were successfully presented by the members. The famous comedy, "Wurzel-Flummery" opened the program, followed by the well-known "The Valiant." "A Wedding" afforded a contrast to the foregoing plays and left the audience delighted.

Phi Kappa Pi

MUCH has been said for and against literary societies but the fact remains that Phi Kappa Pi is now ninety-one years old. For the first semester the society studied Russian novelists through the medium of prepared papers. These meetings were diversified by the presentation of original short stories, plays, and poems. In the second semester the society spent its energy organizing a men's informal discussion group of approximately seventy-five students and faculty members.

Aelioian

THE Aelioian Literary Society meets weekly in the society rooms in Sturges Hall. One of the projects this year has been redecorating the room with college and alumnae help. The program has included a study of contemporary literature by countries during the second semester. The program was successful and meetings have been well attended.

First: J. Hill, Zannoth, M. Hoffman, Carter, Brantweiner, Hope.

L. L. S. Society

L. L. S. is the oldest women's literary society in the world. Mother Dascomb nursed it through its infancy, but when Lucy Stone and Antionette Blackwell became members, the society was well able to take care of itself. Later the efforts of Madame J. procured for L. L. S. its beautifully furnished room in Sturges Hall which is not far from the site of the first meeting in 1835.

Phi Alpha Phi

THE general subject taken by the Phi Alpha Phi Literary Society for its study this year was Modern Drama. In November the society sallied en masse to see Eugene O'Neil's much discussed production, "Strange Interlude". In April we "did" the theater again. Social highlights of the year were Mr. Sherman's illustrated lecture and a dinner party at the Hi-O-Hi.

Back row: Hatch, Mineka, Schutt, R. Davis, R. Bell.
Second: Waltenbaugh, Lott, Sheldon, Gifford, Noble, H. Stone.
First: Metzger, S. Harvey, McCloy, P. Wallace, H. A. Walrath, M. Adlard.

Sigma Gamma

THE society spent the first semester in a profitable study of biography and the short story. Two outstanding social events of the year were the formal Christmas dinner and the spring opera party. The writing and producing of original plays was the project of the second semester. Several of the meetings were given to interesting talks by faculty members. A scholarship fund is being established.

Back row: C. Stocker, P. Thomas, W. Brann, Irvin, L. Laird.
Fifth: Shipherd, J. Davis, Service, Reischauer, Dunham, TeWinkle, Meinhold, Ferguson, Moorhead.
Fourth: Trethway, Ficken, Cromie, Irwin, Barnes, Neubauer.
Third: R. C. Gladieux, Biel, F. Adams, Imhoff, G. White, Butzberger, A. Barr.
Second: Beattie, Augustine, Crouthamel, Novotny, Brooks, Hollands, T. Williams, Chapman.
First: Knepper, Wilbur, Merryfield, Sells, K. Miller.

Varsity O Club

THE Varsity O Club has been as active as any organization on the campus this year. Its activity has consisted in keeping itself alive, an objective which required the election of four officers: Merryfield, President; Williams, Vice-president; Stocker, Secretary; White, Social chairman. A moral victory was won over the Carnegie Report and 'men's life' has been up to its usual par this year.

Back row: Reeder, J. Ball, Miss Edwards, Morse.
Second: McClov, Dr. Moulton, vonWenck, Burton.
First: D. Koch, Estabrook, B. Hill, Reily.

O. C. Club

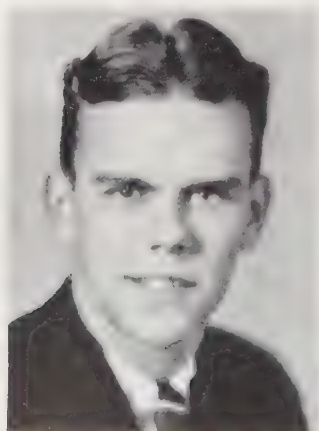

O. C. Club is a by-word in athletic circles. To be a member of the O. C. Club means two things: first, that the girl has attained a high degree of proficiency in athletic skill and has lived up to the code of sportsmanship; second, that she is a member of a live, active organization which is striving for the best in athletics, and athletics for all.

Back row: Louis, Mealy, Kline.
Second: K'e Wu, E. Hawkins, Craine, Oakley.
First: Rugh, Doxie, M. Rogers.

Shansi Committee

Clayton Miller and Adella Clark are the two representatives going to Oberlin in Shansi. For two years they will teach English and physical education. We have been very fortunate in having "Red" Hawkins, our returned representative, as chairman of the Shansi committee.

Back row: Kobayashi, Nakamura, Himeno, Nishihara.
Second: Shibata, Hara, Kawase, Wakukawa.
First: Nagata, Yamaji, Takeuchi, Yuasa.

Japanese Club

WITH neither definite purpose nor definite program to fulfill, the Japanese Club, in its organization capacity, has failed to accomplish anything in bringing about closer understanding between America and Japan. Nevertheless, the individual members are doing their utmost to acquire the best that America has to offer, and in a small but effective way serve as sincere and friendly mediators between the two nations.

Back row: Symons, Hamm, Mrs. Sturgis, B. Barber, Pitts, Jewett, Mr. Alexander, Haring.
Third: M. G. Pocock, M. McClure, M. Sherman, Miss Jones, Mr. Lord, L. C. Hill, J. M. Pocock, Rhodes.
Second: J. McClure, R. Nelson, Zeleny, Malcolm, McQuate, Verdier.
First: Andrews, Brandenburg, McFarland, Dewar, Moos, M. Miller, Crews.

Classical Club

THE Classical Club is composed of students interested in Latin and Greek. Monthly meetings held at the homes of the professors in the department are devoted to talks and plays connected with classic life and thought. Mrs. Anne Sturgis is sponsor of the club and officers are elected at the annual Classics Club banquet in May.

Back row: Mr. Thornton, Mr. Jameson, Dunkle, Mr. Cowdery, Mr. Boyers.
Second: Mineka, Malcolm, Saywell, Butler, Miss Swift, Cheney, S. Smith.
First: Blevins, Wheatley, Hartman, L. Smith, Cassel.

French Club

THE French Club has held weekly meetings at which many interesting programs have been given. Among these have been lectures on French literature and architecture, musical programs, an excellent representation of the "Theatre de Guignot", and plays such as "L'Anglais Tel Qu'On Le Parle" and "Le Captif" by Tristan Bernard. One of the most interesting programs was a French bridge party at the Maison.

Back row: Doerschuk, Sanchez, Clough, Ebinger, Mr. Rogers.
Second: Mr. Duncan, Butler, M. Harvey, Ruch, K. Coates.
First: R. Warner, Miss Kimball, Mr. Sturgis, Hopkins, Mead.

Spanish Club

LA TERTULIA offers to all interested in things Spanish the opportunity for a better understanding of Spanish people and customs, as well as practice in the use of Spanish. Although primarily a student organization, it is grateful to the faculty of the department for their helpful interest. The programs consist chiefly of lectures, papers, and of short plays directed and presented by the members.

Back row: Roe, McClelland, Nadal, Draeger, Lemmerman, Zilch.
Third: Rasooli, H. Winder, Schramm, Gifford, Doane, Brockett, Schubert.
Second: Insprucker, Harding, Peek, Nutting, N. Gilbert, Bedford.
First: Wilkins, Mr. Carr, Mr. Cairns, Mr. Yeaton, Miss Johnson

Mathematics Club

A CONGENIAL group of the mathematically inclined have met for discussion, reading of papers, parties, and social half-hours during the year. The programs have varied from discussions of complex and irrational numbers to a play involving complex and irrational characters. Papers have been given on pure mathematics, astronomy, physics, and music. The Mathematics Club is a "necessary" if not "sufficient" activity of the department.

The White House Emigrates to Chance Creek

Outing Club

THE Oberlin Men's Outing Club in its first year of organized activity has a membership of over a hundred members. The idea behind the organization is to provide a more active outdoor life for the men of the College. A Ford car is owned by the club and the two cabins on the grounds at Chance Creek are under its supervision.

Victory in the Big Six, well won, by a team that worked up gradually to the final meet, made up the disappointments of an otherwise unimpressive year. Barnes, worn from six months' strenuous athletic work, was unable to maintain his previous year's standard, although he did amass $57\frac{3}{4}$ points. Hubbard and Service followed as point winners. On the track the team was well balanced; the field men, with almost half the events in their charge, tallied but 119 of the team's 330.

Ypsilanti, in the first meet, indoors, at Ann Arbor, took all firsts, all seconds but two. Still no great power, but balance and potentiality, showed in a triangular meet with Ohio Northern and Akron. Oberlin totaled more than her opponents combined.

Of victory against powerful Wesleyan, there was slight hope—less when Barnes was unable to make the trip. Although Cover cleared 12 feet to win the pole vault, Service took the mile and 880, and the team's score scattered well, Wesleyan mounted 86 points to the Yeomen's 47.

Of three relay teams sent to the Ohio Relays, the sprint medley team, without its anchor man, won an unconsoling fifth.

Davis's fall over the last hurdle, Service's defeat by Morley, the loss of the broad jump by half an inch, any of these breaks going the other way might have changed about the three points that cost Oberlin its dual meet with Wooster.

Over Reserve the win was decisive. But dopesters, on the eve of the Conference meet, were not too optimistic.

Oberlin, however, surpassed expectations. An unconquerable spirit among its individuals placed the team in all but four events, the best scatter of the day. Early high point of the meet, Barnes' defeat in the 100, was made up for by the mile, Service leaving behind Morley and holding off Cope, and the 880 with Shipherd and Service gaining third and fourth on the straightaway. The climax was the low hurdles, when the Kinsey coached men took first and second, Captain Hubbard running a magnificent last race, cinching the meet for Oberlin.

Coach Tessenvitz had at the beginning of the year only one letter man, Montague, but from a wealth of new material he assembled a strong team. It swept through its Ohio Conference schedule undefeated, tied only by Western Reserve. Heidelberg, Wooster, Mt. Union were completely shut out, Muskingum defeated 6-1. On the Eastern trip the team defeated Geneva, was barely beaten by Duquesne, but was blanked by the powerful Pittsburgh players. The only other defeat of the year was also at the hands of an outstanding college team, Western State of Michigan.

Season summary: six victories, three defeats. Montague, Lindsay, Reischauer were outstanding in singles play, Reischauer-Lindsay, Montague-Moorhead in doubles.

Second: A. R. Barr, Novotny, Williams, Meinhold, Neubauer, Irvin.
First: Cotton, Beattie, Butzberger, Kiracofe, F. D. Adams, Ficken.

Around a nucleus of four letter men, Captain Kiracofe and Coach Throner built an able team, performing constantly better. Handicapped early by lack of experienced catchers and Butzberger's sore arm, play was inconsistent. Development of Adams, catcher, and after his injury, of Ficken solved one difficulty. Hard work by Kiracofe, starting nearly every game, met the other.

"Cotton" was at top form in the most interesting game of the season, a 2-2 tie with Wooster. He allowed three hits, struck out nineteen in sixteen innings. Butzberger's hitting featured this game, as it did many others. Among the new men the work of Meinhold, second base; Irvin, first, and Barr, third, was outstanding.

Oberlin finished the season with 5 games won, 5 lost and 1 tied. The last game was a climax, a 5-1 defeat of Michigan State, conquerors of the University of Michigan. Ten of thirteen letter men return. Captain-elect is Tommy Williams.

Coach Kinsey developed his second Ohio Conference championship team. In Ohio the cross-country team met no defeats; against other schools but one, by Ypsilanti. Oberlin won over three traditional rivals by clean sweep scores, among them Wooster. Case was defeated by six men abreast. Victory in the Big Six ended Muskingum's three year supremacy. Oberlin's strength lay in the uniform abilities of eight men, constantly shifting position in a season-long struggle to find a place on a six man team. Between Service who won all races but Ypsilanti, and the last man, never elapsed more than a minute. But among the others, Miller, captain, Shipherd, Gladieux, Dunham, Ashe, Irwin, Mau, none able to demonstrate superiority. Seven became letter men. Six return. Service is captain-elect.

Track

Finish

The football season was not outstandingly successful. Four games were won, four lost. It was a new experience for Oberlin, holder of tradition of football greatness.

Early prospects were good. Ten returning lettermen gave Coach MacEachron a strong nucleus, a man for each position. But things went wrong. Oberlin's experienced ball carriers were injured. The burden of the ground gaining was put on the shoulders of new, inexperienced men. Coach MacEachron built, however, a superb line, feared by all the Conference, outplaying all opponents but Wooster. The backfield, despite handicaps of greenness and lightness, playing with the help of this line, actually gained more ground than all of its opponents but Wooster and Miami. Oberlin lost the breaks as well as many of her men.

Heartbreaking to lose were the games against DePauw and Mt. Union. Against Wooster Oberlin was outplayed, against Miami did not play its best. The 7-2 defeat of Akron, a last period score started by Beattie's 40 yard run, was to spectators the high point of the season. The last game victory against Reserve made up many disappointments.

| OBERLIN | | OPPONENTS | |
|--------------|----------------------|-----------|--------|
| Score | Ground gained | | |
| 19 | 253 | Kent | 0 84 |
| 0 | 241 | De Pauw | 7 174 |
| 0 | 229 | Mt. Union | 13 71 |
| 12 | 121 | Case | 6 101 |
| 7 | 200 | Akron | 2 138 |
| 0 | 156 | Wooster | 27 351 |
| 0 | 59 | Miami | 20 190 |
| 8 | 308 | Reserve | 6 212 |
| Total | 1567 | | 1321 |

Coach MacEachron's planned backfield might well have been: Butzberger, full of fireworks; Meinhold, tricky ball carrier; Knepper, good blocker, fine on defensive; and Beattie, powerful, triple-threat. Meinhold was injured, never got in, Butzberger, crippled, was soon out. Brooks, only remaining veteran, was hurt. Beattie, however, more than fulfilled expectations. Kept in every game for sterling kicking, his 65 yard punt against Reserve meant victory, he was worked hard, helped fill Butzberger's place. Knepper, likewise did not fail, tackled and blocked splendidly.

The new men were light, inexperienced, yet played hard, surprisingly well. Hyle was the heaviest, 163, fell victim to the jinx, was soon injured. Augustine was the outstanding find. Possessed of a great spirit, he made good gains, worked well on defensive. Miami was his game. Thomas proved shifty, lacked only confidence. Henry suffered likewise from newness, was a brainy quarterback, one of the best tacklers.

A great share of credit must go to the line, the best that Oberlin has had for years. With an all-Conference center and end, the other also mentioned, with "the toughest guards in the Conference," and tackles who were in every play, there was no star. Despite discouragements there was never any break-down of spirit. It was impregnable on defense, powerful on offense, alert, followed the ball, blocked punts, won games. Mt. Union was its greatest game. They tore to pieces a line outweighing them 15 pounds, deserved victory.

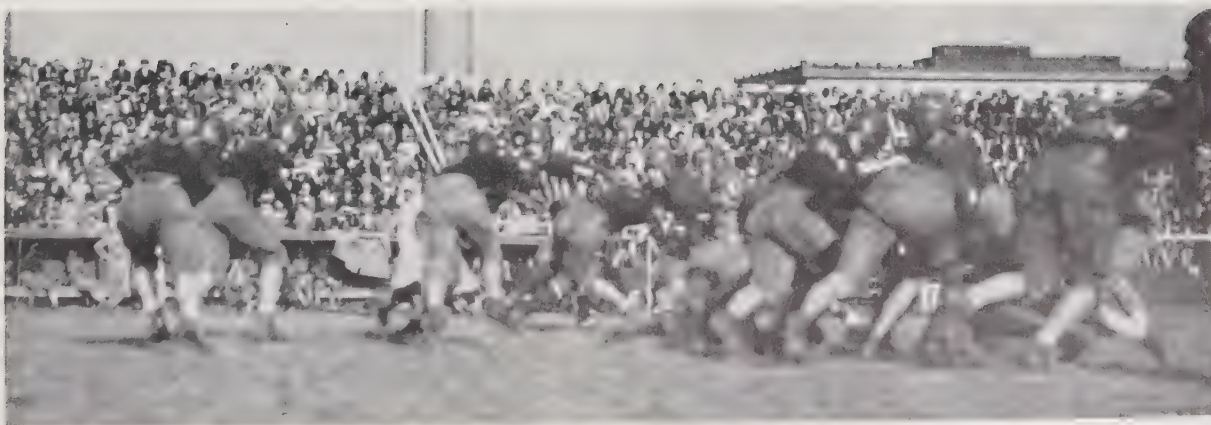

Gowdy, all-Conference center, inspired the team, was elected Captain. Holder, White, Brann, Crouthamel, guards, led interference, were a great blocking group. Merryfield, Adams, Ferguson, tackles, broke up plays. Novotny, end, combined size with speed, figured as pass receiver and ball carrier. Laird, at the other end, was strongest on defense, a fine blocker. His spirit won him recognition as all-Conference, made him Captain-elect.

Men who backed the camera:

- 1 Kilmer, end
- 4 Crouthamel, guard
- 9 Thomas, back
- 10 Augustine, back
- 11 Hyle, back

Coach MacEachron has faced several handicaps in building Oberlin's football teams. One has been lack of coaching help. This year he was aided by a competent staff, Johnny Fleming, backfield, Nilsson, ends. The difficulty of getting enough time on the field remains.

Next year there will be but six lettermen returning. With the addition of a group of this year's new men the outlook is not dark. Regardless of dope, there will be a good team. Much has been said of the spirit of Oberlin's teams. It is noteworthy. Also worthy of praise is the training and personality that calls forth that spirit, the influence of Coach MacEachron.

Oberlin's basketball team, all veterans, proved smart, heady, a good floor team. Never ruffled, never losing their heads, they played a fine defensive game, allowing no large score to be made against them. Good in passing they had as many shots, in most games more, than their opponents. Failure to make them good, especially to make free throws good, uncovered the chief weakness of the team, erratic shooting.

Oberlin won 6 games, lost 9. The margin of defeat was small; average score per game, opponents 24.1, Oberlin 22. Victorious over Chicago in a well played pre-season game, the team lost the opener against Kenyon by a heart-breaking, last second score. The first half of the schedule was disappointing to supporters, disheartening to the team; games lost by narrow margins, only Case and Reserve beaten. Not until Ypsilanti did the team seem to find its shooting eye; kept it to sweep through the last three games decisively.

On the team there was no star. Barnes had his best season. Barr captained well, was high point man. All but Meinhold are Seniors, will be lost next season. To take their places Coach MacEachron groomed a team of promising Sophomores, Locke, Kilmer, Ransom, Bohrer, kept his eye on a strong Freshman team.

THE past year, the second under Dr. Nichols, saw the Intramural Division develop rapidly. It can point to near achievement of its aim, opportunity for every student and faculty member to take part regularly in some form of sport. It is establishing the tradition that the afternoon from 4:00 to 5:30 shall be given over to active recreation, all taking part.

The Intramural Division offered, each season, a widely diversified program. Always there were 14 to 20 sport activities in progress. Each season found 500 to 600 men participating. It reached from 80 to 90 percent of the student body. Beginning with the Freshmen during Freshman Week, supervising class, house, faculty, and voluntary sports during the year, and providing for an Alumni golf tournament in the spring, it became complete, all-inclusive—a vital part in men's life. Intramurals are familiar, established, well-organized.

Development was along several lines. Important was perfection of the competitive managerial plan, voluntary student managers working in a progressive organization for certain definite awards. Senior Managers, highest rank, largely responsible for smooth running of schedules, were Neubauer and Hook. One rank lower, Juniors, Clough, Payne, Brickley.

Student officials were used during the year, proved a success, and will continue.

Informal faculty-student sport received attention. Competition was arranged in golf, tennis, volleyball, handball, baseball.

Soccer, new to Oberlin, bid fair, in its second year of introduction, to become a regular intercollegiate sport. The Intramural Division is trying with it the experiment of making varsity participation the natural result of intramural development. From class teams, a team was picked to play Illinois and Western Reserve University. On like basis, Reserve was met in handball, basketball. Competition was informal, very friendly, likely to continue.

At the end of the winter season, the second Intramural Festival took place. It is permanent, and becoming larger each year.

Some three hundred men took tests, striving for membership in the Oberlin chapter of Sigma Delta Psi, national athletic fraternity. Its aim is the encouragement of all-round physical development. Membership requires the passing of fifteen diversified tests, each in itself not difficult, but the whole demanding a marked degree of good training and development. Success permits wearing an honorary key. Key wearers in Oberlin chapter, one of 42 spread nation-wide, now number 15. Admitted to membership during the year were Kinsey and Neubauer. Other active members on campus, Moorhead, Knepper, Frost. President for year, Moorhead; secretary, Dr. Nichols.

PRESIDENT J. T. HENDERSON

PRESIDENT HENDERSON is now closing his forty-sixth year as a teacher and officer in the Oberlin School of Commerce. He has witnessed the progress of this school until it is now one of the finest schools of its kind in the entire country.

It is one of the few schools of business training in the United States having the college entrance requirement. It offers a two-year Business Administration Course, a Secretarial Course, a Stenographic and several other courses.

There is a great demand for college graduates who have the practical business training.

Make Your Education Practical—

SUCCESS comes much more quickly to those who have the tools of business—who can step into secretarial positions through shorthand, typewriting, and accounting. This year quite a number of Oberlin College students have been taking our courses along with their regular work. A better plan is to remain another year in Oberlin and make thorough preparation for business, office, and secretarial positions. Few college graduates have such training and as a result there is a great demand for their services.

Our Employment Department is glad to cooperate with the Bureau of Appointments in placing graduates in desirable positions.

Constantly Searching

Established 1895

FOR centuries astronomers have looked into the skies searching for new worlds, constellations and stars. Aside from their interesting research work, they have learned much that is of practical scientific value.

Similarly, in the field of student publications, the Indianapolis Engraving Company searches constantly for new ideas, plans and methods that will assist year-book staffs to publish successfully books characteristic of their school and community. The results of these efforts are gratifying.

The Annual Planning and Designing Department welcomes your inquiries for further information.

Official Photographers for the 1931 Hi-O-Hi

The completion of this HI-O-HI marks the thirty-fifth year of service in HI-O-HI photography by the Rice Studio.

The studio is now equipped with the most modern methods of lighting, which enables us to produce unusually artistic effects.
